Calling All Self-Advocates

Self-Advocacy is a Rights Movement led by people who have been labeled as having a developmental diverse ability; it's about the right to speak up and make your own life decisions and the right to choose your own support. Self-advocacy is about having a voice regardless of one's labor or perceived level of ability.

Self-Advocates are reshaping Society to make sure that people who have been labeled has the same adult rights as everyone else.
