Calling All Self-Advocates

What is Self-Advocacy? Self-Advocacy is learning how to speak up for yourself, making your own decisions about your own life, learning how to get information so that you can understand things that are of interest to you, finding out who will support you in your journey, knowing your rights and responsibilities, problem solving, listening and learning, reaching out to others when you need help and friendship, and learning about self-determination.

Why is Self-Advocacy Important? So that you have the knowledge needed to succeed and are given the chance to participate in decisions that are being made about your life - See more at:

PERSONAL SUPPORT NETWORK FACILITATION - ONLINE

September 11 - October 22 and October 31 - December 10

People and connections are the most important things in life and necessary for the happiness and security of our friends and loved-ones living with disabilities.

Join PLAN Director, Rebecca Pauls, for this online course that will give you the tools necessary to build thriving support networks around those who are socially isolated due to disability, illness or old age. Go to: <http://planinstitute.ca/learning-centre/events/> to learn more.

FUTURE PLANNING TOOL - ONLINE

Coming September 2017

This online Future Planning Tool for people with disabilities and their families will guide the user through the steps required to set goals, and build a plan they can refer to in the future. It will include topics such as financial planning, estate planning, relationships, housing, and more. Stay tuned for the launch this fall!
